

Porto Liver Meeting, now on its third consecutive year of “life”, is already a mainstay in the liver pathology post-graduate training. After a first edition dedicated entirely on the subject of “Acute Liver Failure” and a second one on “Acute-on-Chronic Liver Failure”, it is the time to “leave” a little bit the liver and focus on some major pathologies that may arise in the context of chronic liver diseases. These may be a consequence of the liver disease itself or of the mechanism that drives to the liver disease. Neurological, pulmonary, thrombotic and other systemic manifestations are going to be, therefore, mentioned. For that, great national and international speakers are going to update some important and basilar concepts, in order for us to treat even better this so neglected group of patients.

We do hope that the 3rd Porto Liver Meeting, dedicated to the extra-hepatic involvement of chronic liver diseases fulfil all the goals for which it was designed and for what ACIM – Intermediate Medical Care Association - was created.

See you in the 4th Porto Liver Meeting, next year, the 23rd June 2017, which will also be not only a scientific meeting, but also a post-graduate course for those who wishes to attend it.

All the best,

Be very welcome,

As editorial-chief of our scientific journal CIP - Cuidados Intermédios em Perspectiva (Intermediate Care in Perspective) - I'm very glad to be part of the organizing committee of 3rd Porto Liver Meeting. I hope this event will contribute to actualize our liver knowledge with the best speakers in the field. Hoping this 23rd of June will be remembered as pleasant scientific day followed by a healthy and social interaction.

The next CIP will be launched in September with the main theme – corticosteroids and its role in endocrinological, liver and immunological disease. It will be an interesting edition, I hope everyone as curiosity to read it at our site!

See you soon,
